Affidavit Mamma's are here to help you change your individual schools, your city and state government, and the nation based on the United States Constitution and your state constitution!

Remember- We are here to educate and correct. We do not use attorney's or the courts. We use constitutional pressure.

Step 1- determine who is violating your rights or those of your family or others

Step 2- try to gather several others to work with you in sending notices or affidavits. More is always better in this fight.

Step 3- look through the available notices and affidavits; try to determine which you need for the desired purpose.

Step 4- ask us questions. One of us will try to answer you with the best counsel.

Instructions

- Notices and affidavits are always printed on legal size paper- 8.5 X 14 inch.
- Notices do not need to be notarized; but, Affidavits are always notarized because they become a legal document by the notarizing.
- If you are out of Arizona, you will need to look up your own state constitution on Ballotpedia. You will need to read our Arizona references and insert your own state references in place of those from Arizona. You may leave the AZ references or substitute the constitutional references from your state.
- Notices may be served in person, if someone is there to video the service, or they may be sent certified mail with return receipt requested. You must retain the original for your records. The same notice may be given to multiple people or groups.
- Affidavits may be served the same way; but, again, you must retain the original for your records. The same affidavit may be given to multiple people or groups.
- The usual method is to serve those in most authority first. This is especially true of elected officials who really have no authority we have not given them.
- After they are served, you wait for a time to observe what they will do with the information you have given them in the notice or affidavit.
- If they ignore or act opposite to your notice or affidavit, then you serve more people with the same one or move to another one. In the situation of a school district, you would serve the school board and the superintendent, then you would serve principals, staff, teachers, nurses, etc.
- In every case, you must send copies to the Governor, the leads in the senate and the house, and the attorney general. It is also useful to send them to the county sheriff and even the police chief.

Follow these guidelines. Ask for help. Trust that this takes time but will work.
